EARLY HISTORY OF PERRY COUNTY

Perry County, Illinois was created out of parts of Jackson and Randolph Counties in 1827. It embraces an area of about 276,480 acres. The county seat, Pinckneyville, was established in the same year. Jamestown in the southwestern part of the county (T5S R4W) was established in 1823 and is believed to be the oldest community, still in existence, in the county.

When The Act of Creating Perry County was passed by the General Assembly, at Vandalia, in February 1827, this county had the following boundaries: Beginning at the N.E. Corner of T4S R1W, thence due west 24 miles to the N.W. corner of T4S R4W, thence due south 18 miles to the S.W. corner of T6S R4W, thence due east 24 miles to the S.E. corner of T6S R1W, thence north 18 miles on the 3rd. principal meridian to the point of beginning. On Feb. 6, 1835, the boundary between Perry and Franklin Counties was partially redefined. The Little Muddy River became part of the boundary between those two counties, in T5S R1E and T6S R1E.

Subsequently, other communities were established as the rail and coal mining industries grew. They were Cutler (1872), Conants (1878), Denmark (1865) & Willisville (1895) in the southwestern part of the county; Swanwick (1871) & Winkle (1871) in the northwestern part and Sunfield (1886). The present site of Du Quoin, the largest city in the county, was established in 1854.

ABOUT LEE & NAOMI SCHICK

We are both natives of Southern Illinois. Naomi was born in Cobden (Union County) and spent her childhood in Union, Perry & Washington Counties. Lee was born in Du Quoin (Perry County) and grew up in Sunfield, four miles north of there.

Although we are experienced in genealogical research in most areas of the United States, we specialize in Southern Illinois. We have one of the larger private collections of printed Southern Illinois genealogy that can be found anywhere. We are continually adding to our library as material becomes available. If you feel we might be able to help you with your research, please contact us.

We wish to thank Roberta (Shook) Boyett of Sesser, Illinois for her early efforts on this project. We also wish to thank W.G. Richinson of Carbondale, Illinois for permission to use his map of Perry County which is contained in the introductory pages of this book.

We have made every effort to make this census as accurate as possible. Like all other human beings, we make mistakes. We promise perfection to no one. Should you feel we have interpreted any of the enumerations improperly, we would appreciate your bringing it to our attention.
